Single Family Residential Zoning Districts

R1L, R1S, R1FB, R1MH

R1L-Residential: Single Family Limited

The purpose of the R1L zoning district is to establish and preserve quiet, conventional single family home neighborhoods free from other uses except those that are convenient and compatible to the residents.

Some Permitted Uses Are

1. Conventional detached family dwellings, except manufactured or factory built buildings used for single family dwelling purposes.
2. Churches (in permanent buildings).
3. Residential care homes provided the definition in Section 17.04.622 is met, the home is certified by the state as a care home, and a city business license has been obtained.
4. Fire and police stations.
5. Home occupations as defined in Section 17.06.290.
6. Libraries, parks, playgrounds and community buildings.
7. Public schools.
8. Temporary mining operations.

Uses Permitted with a Conditional Use Permit

1. Bed and Breakfast establishments.
2. Essential public utility buildings and facilities.
3. Cellular and other similar communication facilities.
4. Shelter for victims of domestic violence.
5. Temporary mining operations.
6. Other uses also determined to be similar and not detrimental to the public health, safety, and welfare of the community.

R1S-Residential: Single Family Suburban

The purpose of the single family suburban zoning district is to provide for and conserve rural and low density residential uses in areas of the city where large lots are desired and public facilities may be limited.

Some Permitted Uses Are

All other uses permitted outright in the R1L district.

Uses Permitted with a Conditional Use Permit

1. All uses permitted within the R1L district subject to the conditional use permit process.
2. Farms and ranches.

R1FB-Residential: Single Family Factory Built

The single family factory built home zoning district is intended to provide sites for exclusive factory built home occupancy and accessory structures incidental to factory built homes, for those citizens who desire to utilize this type of housing unit in an appropriate, safe, sanitary and attractive environment.

Permitted Uses

1. Factory built buildings, as defined by Chapter 17.04 of the City Code, used for single family dwelling purposes.
2. Most of the uses permitted outright in the R1L district.

Uses Permitted with a Conditional Use Permit

All uses permitted within the R1L district subject to the conditional use permit process.

R1MH-Residential: Single Family Mobile Home

The single family mobile home zoning district is intended to provide sites for manufactured, mobile and modular home occupancy and accessory structures incidental to these homes.

Permitted Uses

1. Manufactured or factory built buildings used for single family dwelling purposes.
2. All other uses permitted outright in the R1L and R1FB zoning districts.

Uses Permitted with a Conditional Use Permit

All uses permitted within the R1L district subject to the conditional use permit process.

Applicable Definitions

Bed and Breakfast Establishment: a residential structure used for commercial lodging purposes that is occupied by either the owner or a resident manager and has no more than four bedrooms used for this purpose.

Building Setback: the minimum distance between the property line and all structures.

Carport: an accessory building or portion of a main building with two or more open sides designated or used for the parking of motor vehicles. Enclosed storage facilities may be provided as part of a carport.

Conventional Construction: a building constructed pursuant to the Uniform Building Code as adopted by the city, on a permanent foundation, using individual construction components and requiring all normal phase inspection by the city building official except for manufactured and modular homes.
